Foreign Forces Are Greeted With Posters, "Assassinate Foreign Police!"Washington — Information has reached the Associated Press pointing to direct Russian soviet participation in an impending armed struggle for the control of all China.The preparations already made com-temple a civil war of major proportions centering in the northern porvinces and dwelling in importance the present sporadic disturbances in the south.The ultimate political sequences be pleased with the car you select probable operations is in the sphere of greatest interest to Japan, and the aid of the soviet is being thrown behind the standards of Feng Yu Hsing, leader of the faction least friendly to Tokyo. Opposing Feng stands Chang Eo-Lin, the Manchurian war lord, reported to have the moral if not the actual physical support of the Japanese government.In its last analysis such a struggle might easily approximate a war actual campaigning carried on by between Japan and Russia, with the Feng and Chang and the supplies furnished by Moscow and Tokyo.Already considerable quantities of arms and ammunition have been sent across the frontier from Russia, and Russian army instructors, have gone into inner Mongolia to cooperate with the officers of Feng. In some places steps have been taken to mobilize railroad equipment in Mongolia for Feng's troops, while at other northern points railroad facilities have become a prize for active but inconclusive maneuvering.The Russian agent, Karakhan, has given open encouragement to the forces of unrest in a manner which has incurred the strong displeasure of the envoys of the great world powers.
Russian propaganda has been increasing in volume not only in the north but also at Canton and other centers in the south.Information of these developments has been placed in the hands of the American press which views the situation with an absorbing interest not unmarked by anxiety. Its officials are withholding comment.RIOTS INCREASE Shanghai—The strikes, declared following the rioting here extended considerably overnight, and the number of those abstaining from work Friday was estimated at 150,000.The strikers are reverting to old time Chinese methods, threatening the lives of the families of those workers remaining loyal to foreign employers.The secretary of the Shanghai municipal council said that during a raid on the strike leaders' premises the police secured irrefutable evidence that bolshevik money and activities are behind the present disturbances, and further established that the Russians are merely using the Chinese students in their efforts to extend the Moscow program.The means now being used by Chinese to carry on their anti-foreign campaign continued to spread with increasing rapidity Friday.The entire Chinese police force will be out Saturday. One-eighth of the force has quit already. Shops in the French concession hitherto unaffected by the disturbances which started last Saturday were closing today.Foreign forces patrolling Shanghai streets flanked by boarded store fronts Friday were confronted with posters reading: "Assassinate Foreign Police," and "Assassinate Foreigners Connected with Law Courts."Among the documents seized by police in raids on Shanghai university was a letter from a Chinese in Berlin to a professor at the college saying "It has been decided that students of three countries—China, Germany and Russia—will start an organization which will unite the nations of the world in the cause of the revolutionary party."The letter reveals efforts of Chinese in other countries to make the Koumintang—the Chinese party, which is charged with responsibility for inciting the present trouble—an international organization with branches in Germany, Russia and France.Think It Risky To Send Big
Airship To Pole Fliers' AidBY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1925 by Post Pub. Co.
Washington, D. C.—Captain Landdowne, of the dirigible "Shenandoah" has applied to the navy department for permission to go to the relief of the Amundsen expedition in the Arctic.Whether the permission will be granted is doubtful because the navy is planning to use the Shenandoah for possible emergencies that may arise in connection with the MacMillan-Byrd expedition this summer and the assumption here now is that if Amundsen doesn't turn up at Spitzbergen in the next few weeks, he will be found in Grant land by the American explorers.The navy has not yet completed its plans to back up the MacMillan-Byrd trip to the Arctic but every precaution is being taken to avoid what happened to Amundsen. In other words radio equipment will be carried by the navy fliers as well as carrier pigeons. A reserve plane will be kept at the base to go out on a scouting flight in the event that the first two planes are compelled to landor are lost. And besides all this the dirigible will be kept near at hand to make the flight over the unexplored areas in search of the planes, should they need help.The winds of the Arctic zone are so variable that it is considered risky to send the dirigible north unless absolutely essential. Differences of opinion have been expressed inside the navy as to the wisdom of sending the Shenandoah north to look for Amundsen or anybody else, for it is thought the big ship with its large crew might run more danger than the explorers traveling on foot.If the Norwegian government should make a plea for the use of the Shenandoah in the search, the navy might stretch a point, but even in that case the dirigible would hardly be sent north until after the Mac-Millan-Byrd expedition has reported on the scouting done by airplane.According to the present plan, the navy fliers will leave next week for Maine and Etah, the base in Greenland, should be reached about the latter part of July. An airplane base will then be established at some point near Cape Columbia and the entire region observed by airplane in the hope of finding Amundsen, for the navy will delay its plans for the exploration part of its program in the Arctic until absolutely assured that Amundsen is found or is not in the vicinity.There is every reason to believe that the navy planes will be able to keep in constant touch with their base by radio or carrier pigeon and some of the higher naval officers feel that until other efforts fail the dirigible should be kept "away from the Arctic lest some mishap befall it. The United States has only two of the great airships and is not yet ready to take the risk of losing one of them if the same object can be accomplished
otherwise.FRENCH CABINET
CRISIS AVERTED

BY M. CAILLAUX

Finance Minister Surrenders to Socialists' Attack on Budget ProgramParis—The cabinet crisis, apparently threatened earlier Friday seemed postponed when Finance Minister Caillaux partially surrendered to the Socialists' attacks upon his financial program.The attacks were conducted by former Finance Minister Louis Loucheur and by Socialist leaders at a "peace conference" with the government and the left bloc of the chamber, called by Premier Painleve to harmonize opposition to the Caillaux financial program.M. Caillaux insisted that the balancing of the budget came first, while
M. Loucheur and the Socialists maintained that financial reforms must precede a budget equilibrium. Mr. Cail-laux, however emphatically rejected the Socialist demand for a capital levy.One of M. Caillaux's main arguments was that "the United States is just now greatly interested in our situation," and that the best way to secure a satisfactory settlement of France's debt to the United States would be for France to balance her budget and even to make her receipts exceed expenditures.GERMAN MILLIONAIRE IS says the Exchange Telegraph agency

by various foreign credits of the Stin-to obtain new credits in the United States failed, it is stated.COOLIDGE DECLINES TO

NEW OFFENSIVEIs Strongest Attack Since
First Invasion, Fails Against Machine GunsBy Associated Press Paris—Riffian tribesmen have launched the strongest and best organized offensive since their invasion of French Morocco with a drive against Tountant, in the middle of the front.Officials reports say Abd-El-Krim's men temporarily gained some ground crossing the Ouergha river at several points but were repelled by the French.The latter in a series of counter attacks recaptured some of the poste north of the stream which were abandoned during the voluntary evacuation of that zone last week.The Riffian offensive was conducted with the greatest fierceness, the tribesmen have ret shown. Abd-El-shock troops. In the attacks, but the French declare they were moved down by machine gun fire and that their losses were extremely heavy.HUBER BREAKS TIE VOTE

ON TAX DIVISION BILLMadison—The vote of Lieutenant Governor Henry Huber again was the deciding factor in the killing of an important bill in the state senate Friday when the senate corporation committee bill which would have increased the county share of inheritance tax collections to 25 per cent went into discard 16 to 15.Under the present law 7 per cent of the inheritance tax collections are retained by counties to be paid back there to the communities where decedents live. The bill would have required counties to turn back to the communities 25 per cent of the amounts collected. It also would have decreased the rates approximately one half in all classes.SIX OVERCOME BY HEAT

cury falling to 74. At noon the mercury registered 92 Friday.HIGHER COURT

He Procured "Kidnap" CarBy Associated Press Madison—A sweeping denial that he had hired the automobile in which it was alleged that former Senator Barney Morlan was "sprited away" to prevent his vote on a pending tax bill in the 1923 legislature was made here last night by F. W. Schoenfeld, chief clerk of the senate, before the special senatorial investigating committee, inquiring into reported graft and misconduct among state officials.Schoenfeld, a former clergyman, admitted, however, that William Decker, driver of the automobile had more than once urged him to aid in collection of the fare account from Olaf Johnson mentioned by the witnesses in the inquiry as one of the men instrumental in getting Morlan out of the way during the pending tax fight.
Under examination by Assemblymen Charles B. Perry, acting as counsel for Senator H. J. Severson, principal witness in the inquiry, Schoenfeld said he had some intimation that Morlan had gone with Decker on the trip during the tax fight but denied he knew the destination or the purpose of the trip.Just before the disappearance of Morlan, the witness said, Charles A.
Clark, senate policeman, who accompanied the senator on the trip came to him to ask if Schoenfeld could obtain for him a liquor prescription.
Schoenfeld said he made no effort to comply with the request but mentioned the matter to Senator Alva E. Garey, also mentioned in the Morlan disappearance and may have mentioned it also to Senator Johnson.Decker preceded Schoenfeld on the stand and said he was an innocent party to the Morlan disappearance, having merely acted in the capacity of driver of a car for hire at the instance of Clark who later told him he was to collect his money from Senator Johnson. He said he did not know Johnson, but being acquainted with Schoenfeld, solicited the latter to assist him in getting the fare, amounting to $35 from Johnson. He said he knew nothing of the circumstances leading up to the hiring of the car.Madison—Questioning in the Smith-

BREAKS HIS BACK IN FALL AT FARM

Moses Soffa, New London. Drops from Scaffold at Leonard Palmbach Place

Moses Soffa, 20, of New London, is in St. Elizabeth hospital with a broken back as the result of a fall about 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon while working at the Leonard Palmbach farm on Medina-Dale rd. Several vertebrae are crushed but he has no paralysis, and it is believed he will recover.

Soffa was employed as a hired hand at the farm and was assisting men who were shingling a roof. He had carried a bundle of shingles to the scaffold and was standing on a plank. Another workman moved and the scaffold gave way, throwing him about 15 feet to the ground. He was conveyed to the hospital in a Deyers ambulance.

Men selected to represent the local post were Commander Raymond H. Peterson, Alfred C. Boser, John E. Hantschel, Henry Patterson, J. N. Fisher and Harry Prietz. Alternates were C. O. East, James Baller, August Arens, Joseph Witmer, Arthur Bunks and Arthur Holmes.

"DUST CANNON" IS LIFE SAVER IN COAL MINES

Washington—A new life saver for coal miners.

The federal bureau of mines believes that in its "dust cannon" it has found another way to reduce the annual death toll among the men in the shafts.

It will be possible now, bureau officials declare, to discover the sources of coal dust explosions in time to warn the men of the deadly peril lurking in the underground passages and hillside from which the nation's coal is dug.

The cannon mounted on a mine car can be moved quickly to any part of a mine where it is thought the danger is imminent.

A charge of black powder is immediately fired, sending the dust, if there is any, spraying in all directions. The men then can retreat to a safe distance until the danger passes.

Tests have proved its plan successful, the bureau declares. And the dust cannon, it anticipates, soon will take its place along with the dozens of other safety devices the bureau's engineers have perfected.

The Weather

Weather for Wisconsin.
Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday. Possibly local thunderstorms to west and north portions. Continued warm.

General Weather.
The pressure distribution remains much the same as for several days past, with high pressure over the southeast and low pressure over the middle west and northwest. This favors a continuation of warm and unsettled weather over the Great Plains, central valleys and Lake region. In fact high temperatures now are being experienced within the precincts of the high pressure. A material change in conditions here is foreseen for a day or two at least, warm weather continuing with occasional

CALMES ADDED TO BOOZE LIST IN U. S. CLEANUP

Pleas of Not Guilty Entered by Large Group—Durdell Held for Making Home Brew

Another Appleton soft drink establishment owner is added to the list of about 30 whom federal prohibition officers charge were selling hard liquor instead. He is Fred Calmes, owner of a place at Calmes Corners, E. Wisconsin ave. He and seven others from this locality were arraigned at Green Bay Thursday afternoon before Judge John F. Watermolen, United States commissioner.

All entered pleas of not guilty, as had been done by those who appeared previously. They therefore were bound over to trial in United States district court at Milwaukee. Liberty was given under $1,000 bond. Arthur Durdell, one of those who pleaded not guilty, was charged with making home brew beer at his residence and selling it by the case. Others arraigned were: Henry Probst, Greenville; Ben and Joseph Overesch, Sunny Slope; Donald Van Roy, 812 S. Oneida-st.; Frank Zimmerman, Medina; G. A. Brooks, Dale; Bartell Graff and Leo Gregorius, Darboy; Anton Steffens, Menasha-rd; Sheldon Samner, Apple Creek.

ONLY ONE CASE OF SMALLPOX IN CITY

One case of smallpox in the city is reported by Theodore Sanders, deputy health officer, who fumigated two homes Friday morning. Mr. Sanders reports that health conditions here are good, despite the epidemics of smallpox reported from other parts of the state. Recently warnings were issued by the state health department to take precautions against these epidemics, but the recent school vaccinations enforced here were considered ample protection for the school children. For adults, however, who have not been vaccinated for many years, it is suggested by the health department that the effects of old vaccinations probably have worn off and that therefore they afford no protection.

MISS FURMINER BACK FROM SOUTHERN SCHOOL

Miss Eleanor Furminger, 206 E. McKinley-st., has returned from Greensboro, N. C. where she has been instructor of piano in the North Carolina College of Women for the past two years. Miss Furminger will remain at home until June 23, when she will go to Chicago to continue her studies under the direction of Joseph Lhevinne of the American conservatory.

TRUCK DRIVER WAS TOO MUCH IN HASTE

Truck driving at 25 miles an hour was too fast to suit Carl Radtke, motorcycle policeman, and Arthur Kessler, 517 N. Bateman-st., therefore was arrested about 10 o'clock Thursday evening for speeding on S. Oneida-st. He was fined $10 and paid costs for $3.20 when he appeared in municipal court Friday morning.

Walter Ohlroge of Bonduel, who was arrested Wednesday for passing the signal lights on College-ave and Oneida-st while they showed red, also appeared in court and paid a fine of $1 and costs of $3.20.

No charges were preferred against Lawrence Chamberlain, 114 E. Pacific-st., who was charged by Officer Radtke with operating a motorcycle without a license. Chamberlain explained that he was about to purchase the machine and was trying it out to see if it was satisfactory first.

THREE MORE DRIVERS ARRESTED AS SPEEDERS

Three more county speeders were added to the already long list for this week on Tuesday and Thursday by county motor cops Alfred Dunn and Andrew Miller. Miller nabbed two, getting Frank Courchane speeding at a 45 mile an hour pace and George Becker, who was traveling 50 miles an hour. Both arrests were made Thursday in the town of Grand Chute. Dunn arrested Edward Popp on Tuesday in the town of Greenville while he was hitting a 42 mile an hour rate. All three men paid a fine of $10 and costs, totaling $13.20 when they appeared in municipal court Friday morning.

BURNED STUDENT MAY SAVE EYES

Man Injured in College Dormitory Fire Recovering—Loss Still Indefinite

William Godfrey, Bessemer, Mich., student at Lawrence college, who was burned severely in the fire at Brokaw hall, men's dormitory, Wednesday night, probably will not lose his eyesight as was feared at first. The loss to the building has not been checked up completely but a definite estimate of the damage is expected soon.

Encouraging reports as to the condition of the students who were burned or injured were received Friday from the attending physicians by Dr. Wilson S. Naylor, acting president of the college. He said Godfrey's status was somewhat improved and that the others were doing nicely. Bernard Herick, Marshall, was badly burned about the hands and Alexander Smith, Green Bay, also suffered burns. Thomas Hayakawa, Japan, is recovering from a broken rib and bruises.

Many of the students were able to resume their quarters in Brokaw hall Thursday night, using rooms on the lower floors, where the damage was slight. Pledges of fraternities were taken into their respective houses and others were given rooms in the Y. M. C. A.

Little will be done to clear away the debris until the insurance adjusters have completed their work. No further reports were available Friday as to the amount of loss, as the checkup was not complete.

BOOTLEG NELL TURNS BACK ON UNSAVORY PAST

Portsmouth, O.—She was a wife

old mare—but her moral standards were not just right. Her master was a bootlegger, and she did anything he told her to do. He would put a jug in each end of a saddle bag, throw it over Nellie's back and send her out to peddle the stuff.

One day a "revenuer" met her on the path. He didn't suspect a thing until she walked up to him, stopped and turned one of the saddle bags toward him. He suspected, arrested, he investigated, found the booze and arrested Nellie.

But Nellie has reformed. She's learning the right moral view of things under Uncle Sam's tutelage. She is working for the revenue men.

Though she always has carefully guarded the secret of her former ownership, she leads the dry men over the old familiar mountain trail.

Her name is not Nellie any more. The "revenuers" call her "Doot Legger."

Officials of the association and prominent hardware men of the state are the lecturers, and the expenses of the course are paid by the association from membership dues.

The first meeting was held Wednesday night, and was attended by more than 75 dealers and clerks. B. Carls, treasurer, assistant secretary of the association, was the first speaker. Thursday night Rivers Peterson opened the program with a continuation of his talk on salesmanship. Philip R. Jackson, member of the department of accounting and business practice, told the dealers how to make their business better through attractive and reasonable displays. A. G. Helmmler, retail sales manager of the Philip Gross Hardware and Supply Co., told the dealers how to make their clerks more efficient. The three speakers joined in the ensuing discussion of the dealers who attended.

NOVA SCOTIANS POLITE PEOPLE, PUTNAM SAYS

Although the people of Nova Scotia have not progressed much since the time of their ancestors, they are more polite than most American people. Giles H. Putnam, postmaster at New London told the Women's Missionary society of Trinity English Lutheran church in his speech Thursday afternoon. He told about his experiences while on a fishing trip at Nova Scotia and about the characteristics of the people and their manner of living. Several new members were taken in at the business meeting which followed the program and plans were made for an ice cream social to be given June 18 in the sub-auditorium of the church. Mrs. Irvin Klebenow is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. About 40 members attended the meeting.

Nokol heat is radiant heat

There is one infallible way to judge an oil burner. Does it act by radiant heat, or does the flame touch the boiler or any other cool surface?

Oil will not burn properly except at temperatures of 1600° or higher. The plates of a boiler never reach a much higher temperature than the boiling point of water or 212°. If the oil flame touches the boiler sides the result is soot, loss of fuel value, boiler insulation.

The difference between Nokol and every other oil burner is the patented Nokol combustion chamber. Here the Nokol flame is confined. It never touches the boiler surface.

The Nokol combustion chamber is responsible for the low fuel cost of Nokol. This fuel cost is to the best of our knowledge less than that of any other oil burner. Nokol uses a higher and more desirable grade of fuel than most oil burners dare use, at lowest cost.

To make sure of having your Nokol by fall, get in touch with us today. Call or phone.

AMERICAN DEBTS TO EUROPE

Citizens of the United States traveling in Europe have been accused of embarrassing the administration by passing out the word, on nothing more than their own private opinion, that this country is willing to forgive the war debts. That of course is reprehensible.

But it is interesting to hear from another angle some of the facts to which our travelers are subjected in Europe—facts which have been too little discussed in this country.

Back in the forties of the past century Mississippi and Florida, finding themselves caught in the general panic period, repudiated their bond obligations, held by Americans and Europeans. In the seventies not only these states but the states of Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Louisiana and North and South Carolina repudiated similar debts contracted, not during the Civil War but before and after it.

Thus to this day whenever the British Foreign Bond Holders' corporation holds a meeting it reads a table of American debt repudiation by our states amounting to $60,000,000 principal and $180,000,000 accrued interest, most of which undoubtedly represents bonafide obligations shamefully cast off by commonwealths with no other excuse than that under the eleventh amendment to our Constitution they could get away with it.

That was the amendment adopted in 1793 which prohibited creditors of states from collecting in a federal court. Today it is difficult to see why any such provision should exist in the Constitution, nor why a state should not be exactly as responsible before the bar of justice as a township or county.

Apparently it never occurred to Americans of 1793, 1840 and 1870 that this country might later on be loaning to others, and that a long history of repudiated state debts upheld by a constitutional amendment specifically adopted to permit repudiation would be a very poor skeleton to have in our closet when we started out to collect on our own account.

In 1843 the indignant John Quincy Adams tried to force defaulters to pay up by a resolution denying the aid of the United States or any neighbor state to a state which was attacked by a foreign power for repudiating its debts. In other words, he proposed to put defaulting states in the position of Cuba, Haiti or San Domingo today. These nations are not disposed to repudiate, because they know that force will be used to back up the collection of foreign credits to them.

Mr. Adams failed and the question is more of a live issue today than ever before. Every American who travels in Europe is reminded, if he is as much as mentions the war debts, that he's in a glass house. And as one English paper puts it, "the average American one meets in London has never heard of these unpaid debts and is very much surprised when he is told."

No wonder some of our travelers weaken a little in their conviction that Europe should pay on the dot, when these forty and eighty-year-old American state officials to Europe are obligingly recalled to them.

GUARD STATE SECRETS

The legislature sat down hard on the resolution introduced by Senator Titus of Fond du Lac, calling upon state officials to furnish a list of employees who absented themselves from their work last year for the purpose of campaigning before election. The resolution did not even get out of the committee, which submitted an adverse report. It was hardly to be expected such a plan to get a peek behind the scenes would succeed.

Early in the session there was an effort to find out how many persons were on the state payroll and the salaries they were receiving, but that was also squelched. The administration takes no chances with the security and integrity of its political machine. That is what it has to rest on for its bread and butter and its power. Having no legislative or executive policies that recommend it, it has to depend upon the efficacy of this machine. It is presumptuous for the people to seek information about state affairs in view of these circumstances. So long as they keep this administration in power they will have to give it carte blanche authority to do as it pleases, and ask no questions.

OUR JURY SYSTEM

For nearly three weeks the state of Illinois and the defense in the Shepherd germ poisoning case in Chicago have been trying to obtain a jury. The task probably is far from completed. One prospective juror says he has been approached with the suggestion that he might be "favorable" and a good juror for one side of the case. An important witness has disappeared in the interval. The slow process drags on. Long lists of peremptory challenges remain to the attorneys on both sides.

When the jury is completed it will be composed of persons who have not known how to obtain exemption privileges nor how to be excused by a confession of prejudice. There may be a few who take a genuine delight in the job. Quite frequently the latter could successfully hold down no other. Our rather excessive demand for openmindedness is rather a bar to the obtaining of intelligent jurors. Nearly all Americans have opinions one way or another in a major case; most of us read the papers and there obtain an advance resume of much of the evidence. If we want to get out of serving it is easy for us to believe ourselves disqualified and say so.

Another bar is the excessive provision for court delays. Jury service has a certain interest, but the life, to men of average or better means, is in a case of any importance a practical sentence to weeks of boredom, much discomfort, little or no exercise, poor air, perhaps loss of income, tiresome company, lack of touch with business or profession, loss of contact with family.

The trouble with the jury system is that it was devised for the swift and simple court procedure from which law in this country has constantly drawn away, adding one complexity and loophole after another until the expediting of substantial justice is impossible.

When court procedure is simplified jury service will mark a restoration of popularity, jury caliber will improve and the obtaining of a jury willing to say that it is openminded will be a much lighter chore for the defense and prosecutor. Illinois' difficulties are intensified by the death penalty and the additional question of jurors' temperament thus brought to bear; but all states, more or less, suffer from the same ailment.

FASHION

Listen here, Fashion, just what have you done? How far will you go? Is your work just begun? We can't tell what we ought to expect, when already a lot of our old ways are wrecked.

It's likely you know that most people will fall for the things you suggest, though they're based upon gull. Through clothes that we're wearing we've suddenly found that the ways of us all have been turned all around.

The men folk, for instance, once dressed very tame. Their trousers were tight. To their ankles they came. And then you decreed that the style wasn't sound. Now they look like balloons and they drag on the ground.

The girls of today also fell in your trap. Their old modest ways must be taking a nap. A lot of new dresses were suddenly made which resulted in knees being put on parade.

You're taking the sweetness away from the girls. You're making the men seem their ought to wear curls. Your game is all right till you let it get rough. Say, listen here Fashion, you've gone far enough.

WATER IS NEXT TO AIR

One hundred pounds of the body weight of a person weighing 150 pounds is water. Man is two-thirds water and can live longer without food than without water. There is a constant daily loss of water through the kidneys, the skin and the lungs amounting to an average of three quarts, or say 5 1/2 pounds, and this is ordinarily made up by the water intake. There is a very small amount of water excreted through the intestine (only two or three ounces) and in such secretions as saliva, or sputum, tears and the like. How long a man may live without water is a question, perhaps not over a week. An animal deprived of water dies within one-tenth of its water has been excreted from the body. Man ordinarily excretes one-tenth of his water in three or four days when deprived of water.

The daily excretion of five or six pints of water occurs through the various excretory organs in about this proportion: Through the kidneys, three pints; through the skin, 1 1/2 pints; through the lungs (in the form of aqueous vapor in the expired air) from a pint to 1 1/2 pints. These are only average figures and apply to an individual at rest. The amount of water excreted through the skin and the lungs increase greatly with muscular activity and with increased atmospheric temperature. The amount excreted through the kidneys ordinarily diminishes when the skin excretion is increased, and vice versa.

The five or six pints of water necessary in the daily intake is not all drinking, but includes also the water in foods, such as milk, fruits, fresh vegetables, and the water formed in the body from the oxidation of the hydrogen in carbohydrates, proteins and fats. Nutrition chemists estimate that an ordinary mixed diet of a man thus manufactures by oxidation, about four ounces of water for every 1,000 calories of food metabolized. So there is nearly a pint of water newly formed in the body every day. Old theories or prejudices aside, the uses or purposes of water in the body are: (1) the surface of the lungs must be moist before the exchange of oxygen and carbon dioxide can take place; (2) circulating water (in the blood makes possible the regulation of the body's temperature; (3) the evaporation of water from the skin keeps the body from becoming overheated; (4) water is essential for the maintenance of function in all the tissues; membranes of the excretion of urine and the kidneys depends on the body's secretion of bile by the liver and upon an adequate supply of water; (5) sufficient water is necessary to maintain the normal movements of the joints—the natural lubricant of joints and endon sheaths is mainly water; (6) plenty of water is necessary to enable the stomach and intestine to absorb the products of digestion; (7) peristalsis (the rhythmic wave movements by which the intestinal contents are propelled) fail to be effective if there is not a sufficient supply of water; (8) a liberal drink of water not only stimulates the secretion of gastric juice in the stomach and improves digestion.

Contrary to an erroneous notion, the liberal drinking of cold water in hot weather does not cause excessive sweating but rather tends to diminish such trouble because it cools the body.

It is more important to make sure of an adequate supply of water than it is to get enough food. Indeed, water is next to air in importance. Nobody can get too much fresh air for health, and rarely if ever does anybody take too much water for health.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

J. Hancock.

Suppose, folks, old John Hancock, who, as every schoolboy knows, contributed to the Declaration of Independence, had signed it J. Hancock. By this time most of us wouldn't know whether it was Jennie, Jules or Jeremiah and we wouldn't care. If there is anything—or rather one of the numerous things that make me mad is the noncommittal or asequal form of signature affected by some folks. Until some one invents a noncommittal or asequal title with which to address such folks they may expect to be neither mistreated nor misused but only missed by me. Of course if they never write to me any more at all, they won't be missed. (Copyright National Newspaper Service.)

SOURCE OF OUR
NAUTICAL TERMSWords Commonly Used Often
Are Derived from Accidental or Foreign Sources

The word admiral is thought of as a thoroughly English word, yet its origin is Emir d Bagh, Arabic for "lord of the sea." Captain comes direct from the Latin caput, a head; but the world mate owes nothing to any dead language, being almost identical with the Icelandic mati which means a companion or equal. Originally coxswain was the man who pulled the after oar of the captain's boat, then known as a cock boat. Cock boat is a corruption of the word coracle, and the coracle is a small round boat used for fishing. So coxswain comes to us from the Welsh. Commodore is the Italian commentator, or commander, and naval cadet was originally the French cadet, which, going a step farther back, has the same origin as the word captain.

We frequently hear of Davy Jones. There never was such a person; but speak of "Duffy Jonah's locker" and you have the original term. "Duffy" is the West Indian negro term for spirit or ghost while "Jonah" refers to the prophet of that name. Dog watch comes from "dodge" watch. This "dodge" is to enable the men to "dodge" being on duty every day at the same hours.

The words starboard and larboard (the latter known as port today) have been developed in an interesting manner. Starboard has nothing whatever to do with stars, but really is older board, Anglo-Saxon for star side because when the old galleys were used, they were steered by an oar fixed to the right-hand side of the stern. In German the word is still subject to literal translation to be English "star-board." The inboard portion was held by the helmsman in his right hand. Larboard is probably a corruption of lower board or side, as it originally was considered inferior to the starboard.

"Jury mast," which sounds as if it had something to do with a law court, is quite innocent, although both words come from the same jour, the French for "day." Jury mast thus means a mast that is put up temporarily.

Two Floors of Good Things to Wear

Adventures In The Library

By ARNOLD MULDEE

"EAST IS EAST AND WEST IS WEST"

E. M. Forster, author of the much discussed novel and best seller, "A Passage to India," might have used Kipling's famous pronouncement about the impossibility of the east ever meeting the west as the motto of his book. If there is one feeling that the reading of the book leaves it is that it will take at least a couple of million years before the west will understand the east or the east the west.

In the very last paragraph this feeling is deliberately emphasized. Two warm friends, one an Englishman called Fielding and one a highly educated native of India called Dr. Aziz, live far away to each other. They love each other and have a high regard for each other, but they are representatives of two distinct civilizations and they know, in spite of everything that draws them together, that there never can be a lifelong and understanding friendship between them as there can be between two westerners or two easterners. They part through the compulsion of their racial histories that extend for thousands of years into the past.

KNOWS THE ORIENTAL

And the highest praise that can be given to "A Passage to India" is that the reader gets the impression that if all westerners were like the author of that book it would not be quite so certain that the east and the west could never get together. For the great value of the book lies in its authors apparent deep reading of the heart of the oriental.

E. M. Forster does not sentimentalize the easterner any more than he sentimentalizes the westerner. His business, as he seems to conceive it, is not at all to justify the English occupation of India or to justify the Indian opposition to such occupation. He seems to understand that the true function of the novelist is to observe, report and interpret life, not to propagandize. And the reader inevitably gets the impression that he has looked deeper beneath the surface of the troubled life of India than any of the learned professors who have visited that country to diagnose the situation there.

The book probably owes its popularity to the interest that has been awakened during the past five or six years in the situation in India because of the Ghandi agitation. Ghandi does not figure in the novel, which is about a mere little out of the way government post, but the forces that were to the making of the Ghandi prestige in India are made more intelligible to the westerner because of Forster's masterly analysis of Indian character.

TWO TYPES

He depicts two types that hold an intense interest for almost any reader and an understanding of whom is absolutely necessary for an understanding of the situation in that country—the English government official and the educated native. The effect of officialdom in alien surroundings, described, or rather presented, with clear understanding and a satirical power that catches up to the mind of the reader. And the educated native, his mind filled with all the lore of western science but reacting in his deepest nature to the age-old impulses of race, is portrayed in a way that proves that the author has succeeded in doing that most difficult of all things, getting into the skin of an alien.

Since the Ghandi movement in India has focused the attention of the world on that country and is doubtless many learned books have been written about the people and their land, these heavy tomes to think with sagacity like contempt of the work of novelists. But I venture to say that E. M. Forster has compressed more understanding of India and its people between the covers of his novel than any two learned professors have imprisoned within their thickest volumes.

"A Passage to India" has been criticized as being rather formless and that criticism is just; but the author knows India and he knows how to make the reader see it too.

Even the least expensive cabinet model of Frigidaire is large enough for the average family, yet so compact that it will fit comfortably in a small house or apartment. It is simply connected to an electric socket—may be placed wherever you want it—and is very easily moved if you move to another home.

Of course you want the convenience and economy of Frigidaire electric refrigeration in your home. And now you can enjoy them at a cost that is surprisingly low.

You can convert your present ice box into a Frigidaire easily and inexpensively. The Frigidaire frost coil is placed in the compartment that now holds ice. The compressor is placed in the basement or other convenient location. Small copper tubes connect the frost coil and compressor, and a connection is made to your electric wiring.

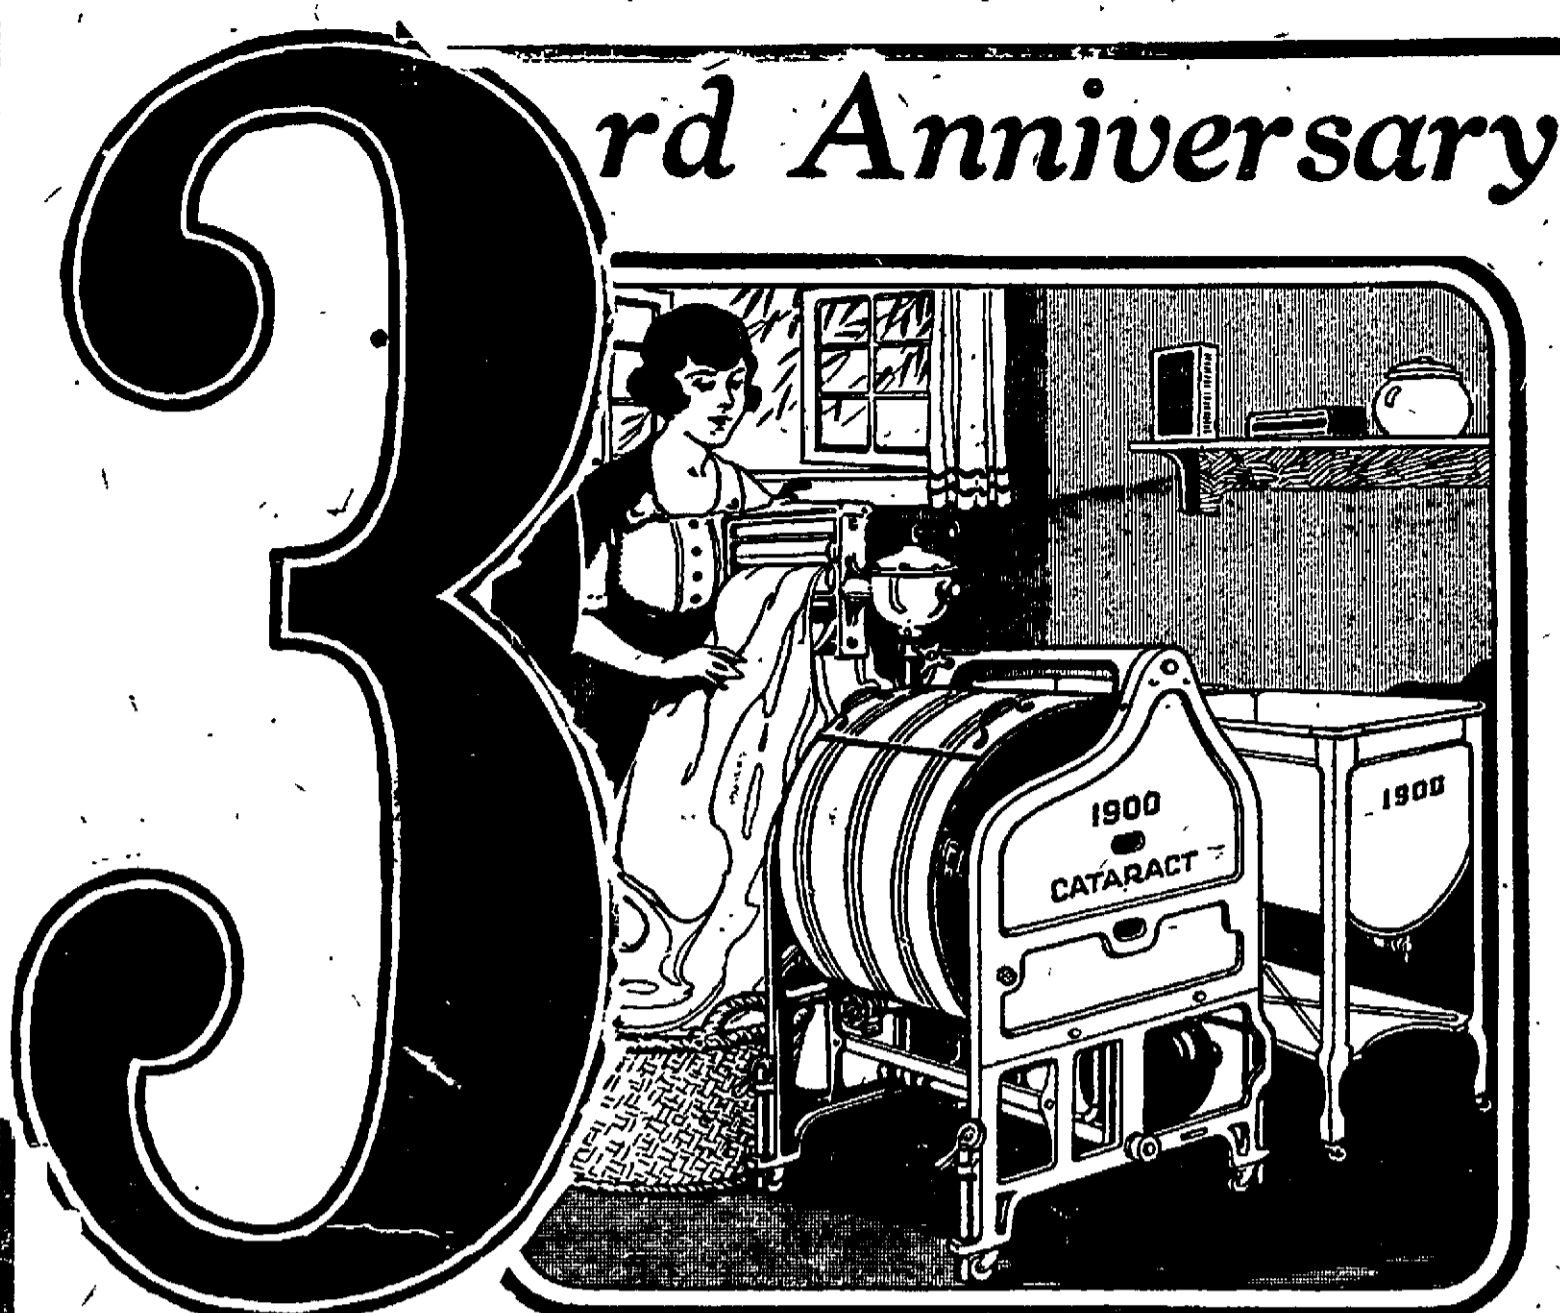

That's all. You immediately have Frigidaire electric refrigeration.

Frigidaire in any form will bring new delight to housekeeping. It means better refrigeration, purer, more delicious foods, freedom from the possible annoyance of outside ice supply and very probably a saving compared to what you now pay for ice.

SOUL NOT MADE TO FIGHT BODY, RECTOR ARGUES

Dr. Guthrie Says Function of Religion is to Fuse Flesh and Spirit

New York—The flesh having been classified for ages with the world and the devil as an obstacle to salvation, it is something of a novelty to hear it discussed reverently as an instrument of religion.

This is the spirit in which it is regarded by the Rev. William Norman Guthrie, rector of the Episcopal Church of St. Mark's in the Bowlerie.

You've heard about Dr. Guthrie and his defying Bishop Manning by staging symbolic dances in his services with American Indians and barefooted girls wearing Grecian robes, and of what a radical he was. But he will tell you that he is fundamentally a conservative.

"The strangling of all emotional display has become a steadfast article in the Anglo-Saxon faith," Dr. Guthrie says.

NO OUTLET FOR IMPULSES

"For at least three centuries we have been taught to restrain all expressions of our feelings. The average man permits no emotional interest in religion to take hold of him. He has no outlet for the spontaneous religious impulses of his nature. Religion to him is a theology plus a collection plate, sometimes plus a social service agency. He buries his thoughts in business and has neither time nor desire to reason out the beliefs which he has been taught were part of the church. Consequently, Americans have become at heart the most irreligious of all people.

My object here is to rediscover methods of religious expressions which will be usable for Americans. I am not trying to lure away the congregations who are interested and satisfied in their own churches, but to reach those who have given up their former church allegiance.

"The function of religion is to fuse human bodies and spirits. Under the commonly accepted method of regarding the two, they are at war. Often the body dominates. We see the spirit turn sometimes and virtually destroy the body, and the person becomes an ascetic.

"Unless religion can make this fusion of body and spirit, unless we can see cleanness and naturalness in the body and at the same time bring it under spiritual control, the result will be extraneous.

"I know what I am doing when I bring these dances into the church and choose the battleground on the question of the body. The way out, as I see it, is through artistic realization of the beauty and sacredness of the body."

REACH BURIED FEELINGS

The dances which have been presented at the old church of St. Mark's have been in the forms of the Greek symbolic dances pictured on urns and friezes. The "libretto" for them, however, has been taken from the religious dances of American Indians which still practice their tribal rites. Where the cold ritual and sermonizing of churches fail to reach the hearts of their congregations, these symbolic and emotionally appealing spectacles have proved effective. Dr. Guthrie explains it by saying it takes hold of ancient and perhaps prehistoric channels of religious feeling which have been buried by civilization.

"I try in these services to answer one question," says the rector. "It is how can we get the best and finest Christian tradition to express itself

FROM soup to salad crackers play an important part in our daily menu. Cut off our crackers supply and even the best home cooks would feel deprived. congenially and graciously and creatively? I want to make religion appealing to us contrarily.

Every church is not ready for the innovations which he has introduced at St. Mark's Dr. Guthrie admits. He thinks, however, that a great many could profit by the example. In this church and for its congregation, it works.

In 15 years he says with pride, and in spite of frequent aggressive hostility, not a single one of the symbolic services has gone "flat." And hundreds of men and women have been reached by the symbolism.

EXCURSION SHIP HITS FISH SCOW

Fishermen Are Rescued After Mishap at Fremont and Brought to Dock

Special to Post-Crescent
Fremont—An excursion boat from Oshkosh passed through the bridge on the Wolf river at Fremont late Saturday afternoon and ran into a small boat owned by Charles Mink, containing two fishermen. The scow's side was smashed in and the occupants were taken aboard the launch, which brought them to Albert Trout's dock. The accident was caused by the excursion people obstructing the engineer's view.

The following program was given at the graduating exercises in the DeWall hall Wednesday afternoon, May 27, of the Fremont graded school: Song, "Apple Blossoms," by primary children; a May drill by members of the primary department; recitation by Fern Jassman; "Classmates," by Irene Taylor; song by the graduating class; class will, Clarence Billington; address and presentation of diplomas were: Evelyn Arndt, Clarence and Robert Billington, Max Jassman, Virgil Schliebe, and Lucille Sherburne.

Womans Improvement club met last Tuesday evening, May 26, at Mrs. R. F. Schliebe's home and from there went to Mrs. N. H. Johnson's home. The occasion was the observance of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson's thirty-fifth wedding anniversary.

A meeting of the village board was held at the village hall Wednesday evening.

The motion picture show, "The Acquittal," was given at DeWall hall Friday evening instead of Saturday because of the Fremont-American legion baseball game there at that date. The Lutheran church will also give its picture Friday evening of this week. Hoot Gibson in "Week and Ladder" will be shown Saturday night.

A large crowd attended the dance given by the ball team at the hall Saturday night. The team realized about $25 on the affair.

The primary school children had their picnic at the school grounds on Thursday, May 28. Fountain park had been selected for the picnic but it was too wet there. The intermediate grades also held their picnic at the school grounds. Misses Watson and Allender were in charge. The grammar grade pupils, under Miss Gee, spent Thursday of last week at Chain O'Lakes. The junior high school students had their outing at Crystal and Chain O'Lakes Thursday also.

Fremont baseball team defeated Beyer Sentinels at Interlake park, Appleton, Sunday afternoon, by a 7 to 5 score and demonstrated their superiority by winning two games from the Appleton team although by close scores. Gertz and Wahl each allowed 13 hits. Lind of the home crew got four, 2-baggers out of five times up to bat. The lineup: Sentinels—Phillips, shortstop; Vanderloop, third base; Fernal, second base; Schueller, first base; Ashman, catcher; Ansoore, centerfield; Avers, right field; Hillman, leftfield; Gertz, pitcher.

Fremont—Wohl, shortstop; Verdun, third base; Bayson, second base; Lind, first base; Wahl, pitcher; Sasse, catcher; Lind, centerfield; Wall, right field; Kinsman, leftfield. Fremont will meet the Greenville team here this Sunday.

It has been learned here that Miss Esther Allender, intermediate grade school teacher, was married to Cornelius Differding, at Menominee, Mich. March 21. They will make their home at Appleton.

There were many fishermen here Saturday and Sunday. The white bass season has about ceased, because very few fish were caught during the holidays. In several weeks the white-bass will return from the north, and there will be a week's good fishing by minnow trolling at the surface of the water.

Many travelers have been availing themselves of the free tourists camp here. There is ample car parking

At the meeting next week the Chilton degree team will exemplify the initiatory degree for a class of local candidates. ALUMNI SOCIETY
BORN AT RURAL NORMAL SCHOOL

Association Holds First Annual Banquet, Elects Mrs. F. Banning President

Kaukauna—About 125 persons attended the first annual banquet for graduates of Outagamie Rural Normal school Thursday evening in Elk hall. Talks were given by representatives of each class, and a permanent organization was formed to insure similar gatherings periodically. Mrs. Forrest Banning was chosen president; Miss Frances O'Hanlon, Appleton, vice president; Stanley Smith, secretary and Francis Smude, Jackson, Minn., treasurer. A committee composed of Miss Sadie Manon, Marion Tuttle and Tessie Holzer of Appleton, was chosen particularly to make arrangements for the second annual banquet.

The toast program was rendered by means of a telephone scheme. W. P. Hagman, principal, was toastmaster and represented central. Miss Therest Heinzel, 25, who was in charge of plans for the banquet, represented the faculty to which a response was made by Miss Luella Bronson, the receiver.

Calls were sent out to alumni of the school and answers were received by the following, each representing a consecutive year beginning with 1913: Mrs. Forrest Banning, Francis Smude; Mrs. Lubke, Frances O'Hanlon, George Van Heuklon, Tessie Holzer, Genevieve Hoolihan, Esther Bubholz, Mrs. May Parks Johnson, Stanley Smith, Verdone Wolfram, Miss Clara Becker responded to the call for 1924 when it was discovered the speaker was not present.

Considerable time was occupied so that when a long distance call to the teachers was received from A. G. Meating, county superintendent, the talk was rather short. Mr. Meating confirmed his words to the development of teacher leadership and what it would mean to a community.

A piano solo was offered by Miss Norma Look, 18, and a vocal selection was rendered by Mrs. Wilbur Knox, 18, accompanied by Mrs. May Parks Johnson, 20.

Misses Laura Mau and Olive Jacobson sang a few duets and the entire group joined in singing a new school song written by Glyn Linder, 25. Community singing was led by Miss Wilma Klumb. A toast to the alumni was given by Miss Irene Maahs. Miss Mildred Carter, New London, former member of the faculty. Mrs. Dora Graupman and Charles Willis, Seymour, member of the school board, were called upon for short talks.

After the organization was completed the hall was cleared for dancing which followed until 12 o'clock. A large number of Appleton young women, friends of the teachers and former teachers, assisted as table waitresses.

START BUS LINE
Another bus service which will connect Waupaca with villages and cities of the most northern part of the county started a regular schedule Wednesday afternoon. The bus runs through Scandinavia, Iola, Big Falls, Marion and Clintonville. Two trips each day will be made, one in the forenoon and the other in the afternoon.

Forty members of the Waupaca golf club participated in the Memorial day two ball foursome beginning at 1:30 in the afternoon. The weather was ideal and a large gallery of the members' families and friends was present. The tournament committee had made an excellent pairing of the players and close scores were evident in every foursome. H. J. Comerford paired with John C. Hart, Gray Czeskleba with Rob Holly and J. C. McCall with Ward Fallgatter brought home the lowest score for the nine holes, each pair having a two hole stroke.

In the play of two holes, J. C. McCall and Ward Fallgatter won the two boxes of golf balls by a narrow margin. Featuring the play of the afternoon was Dr. P. J. Christofferson's remarkable and well directed drive across the river from tee No. 8. Gray Czeskleba's miss of a put of about two feet by less than an inch, which might have won the tournament, and C. J. Palmer's equally approach work with his mangle, which really should have won for Pommer and Holly.

In the ladies' blind number tournament for seven holes, held the following afternoon, Mrs. S. W. Johnson won first place, with Mrs. W. G. Rudersdorf, second.

During the month of June a low ball tournament will be conducted and the member having the lowest total for the nine holes, as per rules prepared by the tournament committee, will be presented with a choice of a brassie or driver donated by J. E. Campbell. A similar tournament will be conducted in June for the ladies and the winner will have a sweater, donated by J. E. Cristy. For the low ball tournaments to be conducted in July and August the tournament committee is indebted to the Fair store for a pair of ladies' golf shoes; to Nelson shoe store, a pair of ladies' golf shoes; to E. A. Hannan, a pair of golf cuff buttons; and to E. R. Haebig, a choice of sweater or golf socks.

FOR GOAT CLUB

The Goat club in Waupaca golf club is now about organized and soon the members can get their goats from the secretary. A nominal share will be required as initiation fee and cost of emblem.

Rehbeig, Janesville; Boynton Miller, Fond du Lac; Judge Fowler, Fond du Lac; W. C. Johnson, Sheboygan; J. Antonson, Chicago; G. Marzetti, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Nelson, Madison; W. F. Rafferty, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Hill, St. Paul, A. Johnson, Jr., Fort Arthur, Canada; John Schwabacher, Chicago; R. J. Hobert, Milwaukee; C. Burrier, Minneapolis.

Waupaca baseball fans welcome the chance to witness the local action again on Sunday, when Boyce Smith, of Appleton, came here to contest with the Fenwick athletic park. Waupaca will present about the same team as worked against the strong Manawa team, with Williams in the box and Smith pitching. Emmett Woods proved himself to be considerable of a hurling art when he finished the Manawa game. The three were loaded when he took up the burden and allowed not one to come. The Appleton team is said to be one of the strongest industrial outfits in the Fox River valley. Two hurlers, Gutz and Stegeman, are now in Milwaukee form.

STAGE
And SCREEN"MADEMOISELLE MIDNIGHT"

THRILLING STORY OF MEXICO
With luscious and beautiful Mexico as a background and a thrilling story of love and intrigue set in it like a jewel, Mae Murray is said to have the best role of her career in "Mademoiselle Midnight," her latest picture, which is showing at the Elite theatre for the last time tonight.

In "Mademoiselle Midnight" Miss Murray plays two character roles—that of a French lady in the court of Napoleon, III, and that of a daughter of Mexico, a beautiful girl, famed for beauty, wealth and cleverness.

The supporting cast is made up of many favorites, among them being Monte Blue, Robert McKim, Robert Edeson, John Sampson, Otis Harlan, Nigel de Bruille, Nick de Ruiz and Evelyn Selbie. Robert Z. Leonard directed and personally supervised the picture for Tiffany Productions. It is released by Metro.

"The Interpreter's House," Struthers Burt's sensational novel of post-war frivolities, has been transferred to the screen by First National and will be the Elite Theatre's offering next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday under the title, "I Want My Man." Milton Sills and Doris Kenyon are co-featured, with May Allison and Phyllis Haver heading the supporting cast.

ALL'S FAIR IN LOVE AND WAR
"Then its war," said Doug when his friends refused to introduce him to the beautiful girl he saw in the Paris-Railway station. And it was war too-war for the prettiest girl they had ever seen. It made a dangerous enemy of his very best friend. It made him attempt to climb the most dangerous peak in the Alps mountains, because the girl doted on dizzies. And it used to make him dizzy to look out of a second story window. This is just part of the story of "Introduce Me," the latest Douglas MacLean vehicle which will open Sunday at Fischer's Appleton Theatre for a three day run.

This is the opening number of the new summer program at Fischer's Appleton. The vaudeville season has been declared officially closed by Mr. Lutz and the coming Sunday an unusually strong lineup has been prepared to take its place at popular prices. Laff week is the synonym of this program. A crazy two reel comedy, a novelty third dimension reel that will fairly raise you out of your seats and an animated cartoon reel offer a fant suggestion of the laugh setting possibilities of this unusual program.

"DEFYING THE LAW" HOLDS AUDIENCE THRILL BOUND
Anyone going to see the feature picture, "Defying The Law," at the New Bijou Theatre today and Saturday will come away feeling that he has received his money's worth. The story, the scenery and the noted film characters in this picture will well repay the time spent. They would if all else were mediocre, which is not the case.

It is a story check full of action that moves rapidly. It will take you quite some time to retell it on getting back home.

The scenery made more beautiful by exceptionally fine photography, is immense. It is not the broad prairies, the towering mountains or the woodlands. In fact, it isn't what you ordinarily call scenery at all, being simply elegant views along a rocky sea coast, a fishing village that makes you think it must be on the shores of Sicily and a dirty, raty, salty harbor with its wharves that you can almost smell.

The story is too long to attempt to relate it. The acting is excellent as one might expect it to be from such finished artists as Lew Cody, Renee Adoree, Josef Swickard, Dick Sutherland, James Leong and Buddy Post, all of whom you've liked many times before. You think of the great "Four Horsemen" picture when you see Swickard, as usual a convincing performer. Leong is a handsome slant-eyed villain—in fact too handsome for a villain. Dick Sutherland brings back horrible memories of "Grandma's Boy." If I were younger, he'd keep me awake tonight, and may anyway, for he is certainly the most horrible looking man in the world. Oddly enough, he like Lew Cody is not a villain, but a kindly creature. Lew Cody is himself, even though he isn't the usual villain.

Renee Adoree does the most remarkable work in this film we have ever witnessed from her. Star of many great pictures, she has never had a role fitting her so perfectly as this, nor in which she performs so excellently, to our mind. We understand that she has lived among peasant folks in all sections of Europe, traveling with a circus. This probably accounts in no small extent for her interpretation of the role of Lucia.

Phone For Food It's The Better Way

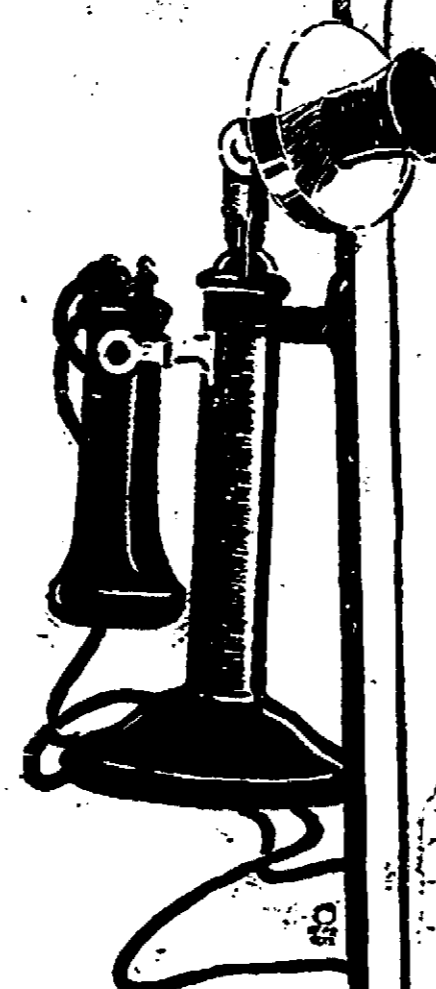

WHAT do you do when it rains? Don't you phone for your groceries? And isn't it much more convenient than going to the store to place your order?

There is a knack to getting the housework out of the way the first thing in the morning. It is something many wives attempt with varied success.

Getting in the days' stock of groceries is an important part of the housework---perhaps the most important part. And every wife does not realize that the best way to get groceries is to phone for them and have them delivered.

Make out your list the first thing after breakfast. Phone for food. It's the better way. You will find that it saves time and changes the shopping hour to a social hour. It will give you much more time to do other things besides shopping. It conserves energy---there is no need of carrying bulky packages. There is delivery to your door rain or shine. There are no walking, driving, or parking difficulties when you use the phone. It's an easier and a better way.

CONGRESS GETS READY TO KILL STRINGENT LAWS

Wave of Puritanism Has Overreached Itself, Political Observers Say

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

Washington — Washington, as nation lawmaking headquarters, against a popular reaction setting in against the last few years' hysteria of regulating everybody's personal habits, conduct, morals, even though, by statute, You hear politicians, whose business is to keep in touch with public sentiment through-out the country, constantly referring to a growing resentment among the people against so much legislation. The consensus of political opinion is that puritanism has overreached itself.

Up to a certain point the average American, something of a pugman himself, might have stood it indefinitely. But the ultra-puritans kept at it until they'd pass that point—far and away.

The average American—a great many of him, anyway—is sick of it, and now he's making up his mind to get rid of a lot of restraints that otherwise perhaps he'd have submitted to. That's the politicians' diagnosis, at all events.

Lately the tendency away from restrictive laws has been hastened by a few developments which made them ridiculous. The prolonged failure of prohibition to prohibit was weighing heavily already.

Then came the coast guard's violent burst of activity against rum smuggling, exciting, at the same time, considerable indignation over the prodigious expense involved, and a vast amount of mirth at the entire absence of any result that liquor consumers are able to discern.

The stampede from Detroit to Windsor, Ontario, on the resumption of beer-selling there, caused a laugh. Recent gestures by the anti-tobaccoists caused another.

The attempt in the Florida legislature to outlaw the word "flapper" caused a third. Tennessee's anti-evolution case is helping liberalism notably.

Friends of the rejected child labor amendment to the constitution lay their defeat to anti-regulation feeling. That undue restriction of parents, in the upbringing of their children, was the amendment's purpose is denied, but that it was so interpreted is obvious, it's admitted.

The proposition's supporters also made what they concede now was the mistake of maintaining that society's rights over the child are superior to the parents'.

"An attempt to carry state dictation right into the home" was the popular verdict. Forthwith the amendment was turned down overwhelmingly.

Leading dries read the signs of the times clearly. Fully aware of the threat that "antism" is going to be turned into a joke by those who seek to overdo it, General Counsel Wayne E. Wheeler of the Anti-Saloon League emphatically repudiates any antipathies but the league's own.

It is, he says, 'anti-nothing except the saloon. Secretary Deets Pickett of the Methodist Episcopal Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals is on record as knowing of "nobody outside a lunatic asylum who favors tobacco prohibition."

If the politicians guess right, there's likely to be a decided loosening of regulative strings when Congress and the various state legislatures meet next.

Few of the politicians themselves are enthusiastic regulators. They passed the laws they thought the voters wanted and will repeal them as readily if they think the voters want that.

Prohibition, to be sure, won't be so easy to handle. The eighteen-century amendment probably can't be wiped from the constitution for a long time. But the Volstead law can be changed and the amendment considerably modified by legal definition. The dries think the supreme court would call this unconstitutional but the wets doubt it.

Anyway, they point out, the law's repeal would leave the amendment ineffective and there's no question concerning Congress' right to repeal it.

PLACH GETS ANOTHER CHANCE TO SETTLE UP

The case of Frank Plach, charged with selling personal property without the consent of the owner, was adjourned until Thursday, June 11, when the defendant appeared in municipal court Thursday morning. The adjournment was taken to give Plach another opportunity to settle. He was given this opportunity before but failed to take advantage of it. Plach purchased a 1921 Ford coupe Nov. 4, 1923 under a conditional sales contract from August Brandt Co. He sold the car to the Gibson Auto Exchange without the consent of the Brandt Co. with intent to defraud, it is alleged.

'Old' Craze Brings Back Braided Rug

The craze for all things antique has brought back the rag rug which found companionship with the walnut chest and drop-leaf table of our grandmother. A rag rug woven in the old-fashioned hit and miss style completes the colonial dining room; a hooked rug welcomes with its good cheer the guest who steps over the threshold, and the braided rug must accordingly accompany the Jenny Lind bed.

To make the braided rug, tear material of ordinary weight, such as dress material, into three-inch strips. Turn the edges in and fold along the center so that it is four thicknesses instead of two. Time may be saved by pressing with a warm iron. For heavier materials, two-inch strips are wide enough. Fold the edges under as it is braided so that no raw edges will be exposed in the finished rug. Roll each color in a separate ball.

FASTEN THE ENDS
A more uniform braid is secured with less trouble if an end of about two feet is left free to work on and pinned to the ball to prevent unwinding while braiding. Fasten securely the ends of the three stripes to be braided to a table or heavy board and begin braiding. To keep the braid regular as possible, avoid tangling more than is necessary. After three or four yards are braided, begin saving. A flat working surface is essential for this step. Coil the braid into a spiral circle and take a stitch with linen thread first into one coil and then into the other on the wrong side.

ALLOW FOR CURVES
Unless extreme caution is observed the amateur will warp the rug by not allowing sufficient fullness for the curve. From time to time flatten out the table to make sure that the rug lies perfectly smooth with no tendency to pull up. A center which peaks means that you have drawn the braid too tightly, and ruffled edges that too much has been allowed. When it is necessary to join ends, unravel back a few inches and sew each strand firmly. An oval rug is made the same as the round rug except to start the braid is doubled back and the two braids are sewed parallel for several inches before coiling.

Color combinations have much to do with the final attractiveness of the rug. A center of blue bordered with a blue braided with rose or orange and contrasted by a narrow border of black is a pleasing combination for a blue room. Brown, tan and orange, gray, rose and black are but suggested combinations for the artistic home maker who works out her own color schemes.

LETTER FROM JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT TO SYDNEY CARTON

I haven't had a minute of time, old man, to thank you for all the trouble you took with the Hamilton family at the time of Alice's death.

Of course you know I got in awfully bad for not flying to Leslie's aid the moment she telegraphed me. The more I live with a woman the less I know about any woman. It now entered my mind that Leslie would mind whether I came to Alice's funeral or not. Certainly Karl Whitney, Alice's husband, was here and he is not such a chump as not to be able to do something in the way of keeping the reporters off the scent and burying his wife with unostentatious simplicity, which seems to be what they wanted.

Honestly, Syd, I didn't dream that I was hurting Leslie beyond reason. Of course you know that she didn't speak to me after I came and the only time that I have had a word out of her was the other night when Dan Mack got drunk and called her up after 12 o'clock in Atlantic City to tell her what a hell of a fellow I was, and that he was afraid that she didn't appreciate me.

Leslie was perfectly furious. She couldn't see the humor of it at all. You know, Syd, that I have always thought that people were mistaken when they said that women had no sense of humor, but now I know it. She called me to the telephone and said that my drunken companions had insulted her and that she hated me and all my friends.

So you see the position I am now in.

I don't mind telling you, Syd, that I have been hitting it up pretty hard lately, but what could a chap do when his wife acts as unreasonable as Leslie. She doesn't seem to understand that this new business of mine is worrying me to death. She insists that I must also remember her upon all occasions, and this morning I got a letter from my mother insisting that she will receive no letters dictated to Mrs. Atherton. She calls Mrs. Atherton an "unspeakable red-headed woman." Can you beat that?

Sally Atherton is the only woman who is any comfort to me at the present crisis of my life. Leslie and her mother are at Atlantic City and I know that unless she comes back to me soon I shall throw up this whole damn game. I fix it up for me. If you can do that write me and tell me how I can fix it up.

A bachelor knows a great deal more about women than a married man.

JACK
Telegram from Sydney Carton to John Alden Prescott

I am washing my hands of the whole affair, especially you. You must run it now to suit yourself. Would not blame Leslie if she never spoke to you again. Why don't you go ahead and drink yourself to death; Leslie would make a charming widow.

Household Hints

KEEP HATS CLEAN
After each wearing brush your hat carefully or wipe it free from any dust it may have accumulated.

KEEP FROM HEAT
If a fur coat or a fur trimmed wrap has been rain-soaked it should be left to dry near an open window, but never subjected to heat.

WATER ON GREASE
When grease or gravy is spilled on the floor or table, pour cold water over it immediately, ice water if possible, to congeal the fat before it has time to penetrate the pores of the wood.

USE WARM KNIFE
To slice hard-boiled eggs perfectly without crumbling use a knife dipped in boiling water and wiped dry. Repeat as often as it cools.

mind you that spring is getting pretty well along and people are cleaning windows and—

The Rag Man laughed. "I know," said he. "But don't worry. I'm starting out with my horse, and was on tomorrow morning."

So they all sat down and the Rag Man told them his two secrets. The first one was that he liked children better than anything else in the world. The second one was that he liked music next. But he couldn't learn to sing sweetly—only loudly. And that's why he chose to be a rag man and to sing "Rag—old iron!" at the top of his lungs.

You can hear him any day almost now, if you listen.

ASK YOUR NEIGHBOR

So many thousands of women have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that there is hardly a neighborhood in any city, town or hamlet in this country wherein some woman has not found health in this good old-fashioned root and herb remedy. If you are suffering from some womanly ill, why don't you try it? For a great many years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been restoring sick women of America to health and strength.

MUST FIGHT TENDENCY TO ROUND SHOULDERS IF YOU WOULD BE CHIC

BY CHARLOTTE AYERS

Since fashion decrees straight lines, it is absolutely necessary to fight any tendency to round shoulders if you wish to be chic.

I have several exercises that I swear by. These are aimed specifically to beautify the shoulders. One is the simple one of rolling the shoulders backward and downward, trying to squeeze them together. I do this many times a day, particularly if I feel rather low and am inclined to slump and droop.

Another favorite exercise that relaxes me as well as exercises my shoulders is walking about with my hands clasped behind my head with my elbows wide apart. I also walk as much as I can in the open air, breathing as deeply as possible all the while. All these promote good health as well as beauty.

Luncheon—Spring soup, croutons, rice cream pudding, milk tea.
Dinner—Chicken loaf, glazed carrots and peas, baked sweet potatoes, combination cabbage salad, maple dumplings, whole wheat bread, milk, coffee.

This "spring soup" is said to be a sure cure for spring fever, acting as a blood purifier and tonic. It is recommended as a dish to be served once a week.

SPRING SOUP

One cup chopped dandelion leaves, 1 cup chervil, 1 cup purslane, ½ cup chopped cabbage, ¼ cup chopped coriander, 3 tablespoons butter, 2 teaspoons sugar, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 3 tablespoons flour, 3 cups chicken stock, 1 cup cream, 1 egg.

The chicken stock should come from the chicken prepared for the chicken loaf planned for dinner.

Wash greens carefully and chop. Put into a kettle with the cabbage and dot with bits of butter. Season with sugar salt and pepper and steam until tender. Sift flour over greens and stir until thoroughly blended. Add chicken stock and simmer 10 minutes. Rub through a colander. Return to the fire and add cream and egg well beaten. Wash rice through several waters and slowly add to rapidly boiling water. Boil rapidly for 10 minutes. Drain and add milk. Cook over hot water until milk is absorbed and rice is tender. Add sugar and salt and gelatin softened in cold water. Remove from the fire and let cool slightly. When lukewarm fold in cream whipped until stiff and vanilla. Turn into a mold first dipped in cold water and let stand until chilled and firm. Serve surrounded by shredded fresh pineapple.

LARGE FLOWERS ON FROCK

WIDE COLLARS SMART

Chiffon capes for summer have wide Peterot collars of velvet, seersucker, salt and pepper, 2 cups chicken broth.

Boil chicken until tender but not falling from the bones. When tender remove from broth and pick meat from bones. Discard gristle and skin. Cut the meat into neat pieces about an inch square. Pull the bread into coarse crumbs. Put a layer of crumbs into a well buttered baking dish, dot generously with butter and cover with a layer of chicken. Continue layer for layer until all is used, making the last layer of crumbs. Pour over chicken broth and bake 45 minutes in a hot oven.

Why Do Millions Thrill After a Jap Rose Bath?

HERE'S the answer: It's because every pore has been cleansed to its very roots, so that it breathes and tingles with life and vigor.

Jap Rose thus thoroughly cleans pores because it's so pure that it enters the tiniest openings, leaving nothing to clog them.

Beauty loving women now choose it in preference to mealy soaps that clog pores.

Begin using Jap Rose now—for complexion, hair and bath.

Adventures Of The Twins

The Rag Man

The next place that the March Hare and the Twins went to was the Rag Man's house.

"It's high time the Rag Man was getting out and gathering up the rags in the rag bags," said the March Hare in a business-like voice.

"People can't get their carpets cleaned out with so many old rags picking around. Hop on, children."

So, as I said before, they hopped on the hare's back and soon they came to the Rag Man's house and knocked on the front door.

"Come in," said a hearty voice.

So they pushed open the door and walked right in like soldiers—single file.

There sat a fat jolly gentleman in a velvet coat, smoking a long pipe. The fat jolly gentleman was smoking the pipe. I mean—the coat wasn't smoking it.

On the hearth by the fire sat a tabby cat washing her face.

A big dog got up from the floor, wagging a greeting with his tail, and looking as friendly as a little black Sambo at a watermelon party.

Two canaries in a cage were singing.

Some goldfish were swimming around lazily in a big bowl and looking as happy as fish can look.

A vase of roses stood on a table by the window—on another table stood a radio.

There were pictures and books and oh, just everything.

"Oh," said Nancy—her eyes round with wonder.

"Jimmy," said Nick—his eyes round, too.

They thought they must have made a mistake about this being the Rag Man's house, but the little card tucked neatly under the knocker on the door had certainly said—"Mister Rag Man."

"We're looking for the Rag Man," said Nancy.

"Then go oned to look no further," said the fat jolly man getting up and shaking hands all round. "I'm that very person."

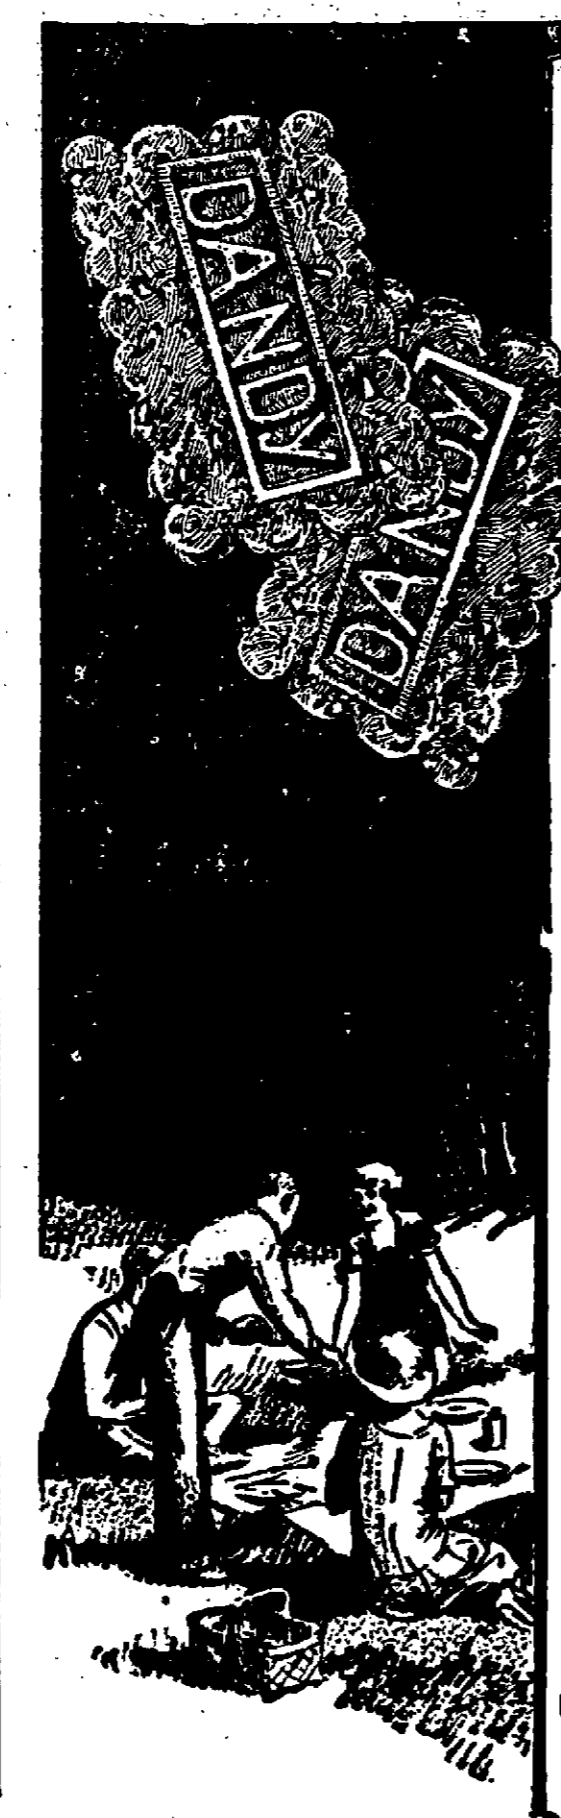

"Why, I always thought that the Rag Man had old clothes," said Nancy.

"Oh, ho, ho! You did, did you?" laughed the fat jolly man. "Just because I like to dress that way for fun when I'm out rag hunting you think I do it all the time. No, sir! I don't like to wear those old duds of mine any more than you like to wear your school clothes all the time. Would you like to know some of my secrets?"

"Oh, yes, please!" cried the Twins eagerly.

"Then just sit down," invited the Rag Man kindly.

"We mustn't stay, really," said the March Hare. "We just came to re-

Restaurant Man Didn't Eat His Own Food

"It's pretty tough for a restaurant man to have stomach trouble. My customers were always telling me I ought to eat in a good restaurant. The fact is I couldn't eat a thing that didn't blot me up and no medicine or doctors helped. May I tell you everything recommended and at last May's Wonderful Remedy, and I assure you I didn't have to look any further. Since taking it I have been a well man." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. FORMER MAYOR'S NAME TO GO ON JOHN-ST BRIDGE

Council Authorizes Tablet to Honor Former Mayor Da-

Bridge

Eradication of the name of David Hammel, former mayor from the end of the John-st bridge by vandals was condemned severely by the mayor and city council last Wednesday night, and the board of public works was authorized to replace the name with a tablet.

Mayor John Goodland, Jr., announced that his attention had been called to the act of vandalism in a letter from Roy Hammel, son of the former mayor. He said he had investigated the matter and found that someone had chiseled the name from the concrete end block of the bridge.

Alderman Fox said that during his association with former Mayor Hammel he had known of nothing that would justify such a desecration, and when he introduced a resolution that the name be replaced with a tablet, the council gave him its full support.

Restoration of another landmark was determined when the council approved the recommendation of the street and bridge committee to restore the name State Road to the street known as Badger-ave, on request of the Daughters of the Revolution presented at a previous meeting of the council. The city engineer was authorized to change the street signs as soon as possible.

Property in Blocks 35 and 36 in the Third ward necessary for the opening of a street running north and south between Prospect-ave and Lenox-st should be condemned, the council decided on recommendation of the street and bridge committee. A petition from property owners on Union-st for the extension of the street as soon as possible was placed on file when objection was raised to the jog

GOTHAM ROOKIE SETS MARK FOR POLICE FORCE

Frederick Grubert Ranks
Among the Keenest and Most Fearless Policeman

New York.—When little boys play ball and dream of brass buttons, the dream is of the sort of policeman that Frederick Grubert is.

Grubert is a great big smiling yellow-haired boy of 27, classed as a "rookie" with only 20 months experience. Yet he has set the most brilliant record of any young copper in all the ranks of the "finest," and this without being quick on the trigger but simply by his own courage, keen brain and manly superiority.

Just the other evening he saw an automobile slipping past a halloo street car. He motioned for it to stop but it went ahead. As he jumped on the running board and opened the door, the driver drew a revolver. Grubert's glove muffled the point of the hammer as the man pressed the trigger. They struggled as the car zigzagged up the street, until finally Grubert disarmed his man. Meanwhile his pal in a rear seat, had opened a rear door and fled panic-stricken, leaving a loaded sawed-off shotgun behind. Grubert's gun remained in its holster during all the excitement. The driver was found to have a criminal record.

Grubert has drawn his gun, meaning business only once in the past six months, and the stick-up man who started firing at him that time promptly departed this life. The policeman is rated an "expert rifleman" in his precinct riot squad.

During the last half year, he admits, his record includes "nine good collars." Three of those arrests occurred in one week. Just luck, he points out. But when the chance came, he seized it without trepidation. Two recommendations for official commendation for him are now pending in department headquarters.

For this life of a fighting man he prepared by keeping books in a business office.

During the war he was in France. He served 18 months as an ambulance driver with the Second Division, and with that outfit he was educated when he saw a good fight to get into it. Then he settled into the office.

"It wasn't only craving for excitement or adventure that led me to the

GERMAN COLLEGES SHOW DROP IN GIRL STUDENTS

By Associated Press
Leipzig.—Educational statistics for German universities covering a period of ten years show an increase of women students; a falling off in total enrollment, and a neglect of the ministrations, and a neglect of the ministrations.

The women today are about twice as numerous as they were in 1914: 7,467 as against 4,056. After the war a large number of young people rushed blindly to the schools, many of them unfitted for university work; these have departed, and attendance is becoming normal. Medical and theological schools report great declines, the attendance today being less than half what it was ten years ago.

FARMERS UNION FIGHTS CANADA BACON SWINDLE

British Assert Meat Labeled
"Best Canadian" Is Cured
in America

By Associated Press
London.—On the contention that they are being "hood-winked" to the tune of 25,000,000 pounds of bacon a year—bacon which is cured in the United States and sent to Canada as "best quality Canadian"—the National Farmers' union of Great Britain has started a movement here to put an end to the practice.

The union took steps here recently to call the attention of the public to disclosures made some time ago as the result of an agricultural inquiry promoted by the Ontario, Canada, legislature which brought to light the details of the trick of sending the millions of pounds of bacon to Canada each month and then reshipping it here, the goods being sold in the British markets as a product of the Dominion. It is understood here that as a consequence of the revelations the Canadian government has been requested by various organizations to create a distinctive brand which is to be placed on all exportable bacon from Canada in the future.

The Farmers' union also took a leading hand in bringing about the embargo on American potatoes which became effective some time ago, this action having taken, it has been explained to prevent an influx of the Colorado beetle, better known over here as the American potato bug.

QUITE COSTLY TO GOSSIP IN OLD KENTUCKY

By Associated Press
Frankfort, Ky.—With the announced purpose of curbing the malicious wagging of tongues, the Kentucky anti-gossip law is being invoked and is securing convictions.

Proving upon the repeating or scattering of false rumors or reports of a slanderous or harmful nature, it places a $10 to $100 fine or 10 to 50 days' imprisonment, or both, as punishment.

The gossip is deemed guilty unless he is able to show to the satisfaction of a judge or jury that he carefully investigated the source and foundation of the handled remarks, and proved that they had reasonable grounds.

To make available proper defense, the gossip must furnish for the public court record "the name or names of the person or persons furnishing information upon which the rumor or report was based."

The law laid idle in the bound acts of the last general assembly until recently at Owensboro a woman was fined $10 for remarks linking policemen, alleged bribes, and bootleg cases. The latest case at Paducah began when a warrant charging a councilman with gossiping that he had seen the name of a county judge on the Ku Klux Klan roster, was sworn out.

THINKING that summer warmth can make a fit motor fuel out of stuff that was unusable in winter is about on a par with the ostrich's idea that he's safely hidden when only his head is out of sight.

Warmer weather may help hide the outward deficiencies of cheapened motor fuel, but it can't remedy the ingrained unfitness. Everyday motoring sense tells you that the continued use of

is more important in summer than in winter, because your car is in greater use.

During the heavy summer running, you need its protection from carbon-choked valves, its freedom from overheating due to pre-ignition—and most of all, you need the certainty that it is pouring no destructive flood of rank kerosene into your crank case to thin the lubricating oil and ruin the bearings. Motor welfare and genuine economy bid you continue to use Wadhams True Gasoline.

Chickering

JENNY LIND, the darling of Europe, the first marvelous foreign singer America had ever known, made her debut at Castle Garden, New York, September 11, 1850.

At this concert her accompaniments were played upon a Chickering. She was so charmed by this famous piano that she would have no other played for her during the triumphant tour she afterward made in this country.

The appreciation of this great piano by an artist so wonderful is but an instance of the esteem in which the Chickering has been held by a long line of famous musicians right down to our own day. And now it is, contributing to the success of Dohnányi, Lhévinne, Copeland, Mirovitch, Schnitzer and many other great artists.

NEW MENASHA CREW MEETS KELLOGGS ON SUNDAY

Former State Leaguers And Riverview Players Band To Play Invaders

Michigan State Champs to Try Mettle of Gossett's New Menasha Baseball Club

Valley baseball fans will have the opportunity of seeing what may be the last ball game of the season at Menasha on Sunday when a new Menasha crew will take the field against the Kellogg Co. team 1923-24 state champions of Michigan. The Battle Creek crew, led by Harry Rusch, former Paul manager and star hurler, are on a tour of Wisconsin and a game scheduled with the old State League team. Rather than disappoint them and as a test of how independent ball might succeed in the old city, Harry Gossett, secretary of the old organization, has put a new crew in the field.

The new Menasha squad consists of some boys who are still playing and stars of the crack Riverview semi-pro team of Menasha. With Harry Rusch, hurling against his old mates the game should be a star attraction. The following men will be included in the new team: Handy, catcher; Llewellyn, pitcher; Zelinski, third base; Leopold, first base; Sheleski, shortstop; Wurth, second base; Sylvester, left field; With Dutch, Leopold, and Lenny Zelinski, hitting 'em hard as usual and Llewellyn on the mound, the Ruschites are in for a mean battle.

TWO GOOD BATTLES ON TWILIGHT LOOP CARD

Two Twilight League battles will occupy the softball league spotlight on Friday and Monday. The game the Rotary and Lions scheduled for Thursday night was cancelled, leaving only one game played in the Lark League in the last week. Meyer Press Co. and the Bankers will clash at 5:15 Friday afternoon and the Post-Crescent squad will meet its hated rivals the Chair Co. team in Monday's tilt. The Chairs are out for revenge and will play real ball to step on their old rivals. With a new pitcher in the box and winning their first game last week by a 15-point margin, they are ready for a real tilt. Comparative scores give them a fine chance to upset the league leaders, as they lost to the "X" team with a few points. The "X" then came within a point of whipping the P.C. crew.

"BOOTS" LAMERS GOING BIG WITH BLYTHEVILLE

"Boots" Lamers, shortstop of the Appleton State League team for the last two years, is making a big hit down south, according to reports from Storny Kromer's Blytheville camp. Boots is just about the class of the league as an infielder and he is hitting with the best of the Kitty league boys. Blytheville fans expect a lot of the former Appleton infielder, according to the reports and records show that he is more than filling the bill to date.

DAVE WILSON STICKS TO ILLINI COACHING CREW

D. D. "Dave" Wilson, coach of athletics at Appleton high school in 1923-24, who was called back to his alma mater, the University of Illinois, as head freshman coach last year, will be reengaged for 1925-26, according to advices from the Sucker

MAJOR USING MANY SUBS IN EARLY GAMES

New York—Many substitutions are being made daily in the major league lineups this season. Fact is, that thus far only a few games have been played with either team using the same front all the way through.

The other day four of the clubs put in almost their entire personnel in efforts to bag a victory. Just one of them succeeded, however.

The White Sox tried 17 players in a tilt with Washington, three of them being catchers and as many pitchers. The Red Sox used 15 against Detroit, five as gunners, and the Browns had 16 in the lineup against the Yankees. Cincinnati, in the National League, sent in 17 men to check the Brooklyn rush. But to no avail.

JONES, MACFARLANE TIE IN GOLF MEET

Worcester Mass.—A tie at 231 for 72 holes necessitated an 19 hole play-off Friday of the National Open Golf championship by Bobby Jones of Atlanta, peerless amateur, and Willie MacFarlane, Scotch-born professional at the Oakridge Country club in the Chester County suburbs, of New York City.

The hour set for the play-off to begin was 10 a. m. Eastern Standard time. 714 titles were with the better record score for the round, the fewer strokes total for 18 holes.

From a two-day tournament with a total sun battle on the course of the Worcester country club, Jones and MacFarlane emerged with the best scores of 91 star players from all parts of the country. Sixty-four finished the 72 holes with scores ranging as high as 350. Twenty-seven dropped out when high early scores put them out of the running. Five others made jibber for the competition by three sectional qualifying rounds did not start.

LOCALS MAY LOSE GAME AS OSHKOSH PROTESTS

Fox River Paper Co., Appleton's representative in the Eastern Wisconsin Baseball League, may find itself on the bottom of the loop, with two losses to its credit before Sunday. If rumors of a protest lodged with league bosses are to be credited, The Carver Ice Cream Co., team of Oshkosh, which lost to the locals here Sunday, are said to be protesting the game on the grounds that Poca on whom they scored 11 runs in a couple of innings, driving him from the box is not an Appleton boy. Poca resides at Kimberly and the league rules state that teams should be composed of home town boys.

Institute. Wilson had charge of physical training, coached freshman athletics, helped Zupke work on the varsity ends, and in between time made himself so useful to the Blue and Orange coaching staff that he was signed up quickly.

"Dave" inaugurated a system of real football training in all his gymnasium classes that attracted the attention of the big bosses. He started at end and captained the 1922 foot ball team at Illinois.

Biggest And Best Mack's Claim For Hurler Harriss

BY BILLY EVANS

Biggest and best is the way Connie Mack now refers to Slim Harriss, prominent member of the Philadelphia Athletics' pitching staff.

Slim Harriss is six feet six inches tall, the heaviest pitcher in the game. However, Slim's only claim to prominence is not based on his perpendicular measurements.

For years his size has been more or less of a handicap. Being the tallest pitcher made it hard for him to field bunts. Rival club took advantage of the fact.

Five years ago Harriss joined the Athletics. He was the big noise of the Texas League at the time and cost Mack a paltry $500.

For five years Harriss has been floating about, getting nowhere in baseball. He had the stuff but lacked poise.

Ever since his entry into the American League rival clubs have hated to hit against him. Having the fear of the opposition is half the battle, but that wasn't enough for Harriss to be a winner.

The possessor of great speed and a bewildering curve that seems to explode just as it reaches the plate, Harriss, from his debut, had all the physical assets of a star.

In every game it seemed some situation would develop to upset him, no matter how smoothly he had been going up to that time. A succession of bunts that he failed to handle or a sudden case of wildness were the usual causes for his disappearance to the clubhouse.

Harriss, after five years of near failure, seems to be on the verge of stepping into the ranks of real success, stardom.

Harriss seems to have acquired that indefinable asset known as poise. In other words, he has finally absorbed the knowledge of what it is all about.

Instead of merely throwing the ball with the thought of getting it by the batter, he is trying to outguess him. He is matching his wits as well as his tuff against the resources of the batter.

During his five years in the American League, Harriss has won only 45 games, nine a season, despite the fact that no right-hander in the organization has more stuff.

"I hope to win 20 games this year, possibly a few more," was a remark Harriss made to me recently.

"I have always felt that I had the stuff to win but lacked the finesse that all great pitchers have."

"After five years of invariably beating up on the showers before the finish, I am sure I have finally grasped the knowledge of how to pitch, which has always been lacking."

"The experts call it poise. I guess. I can't explain it, other than to say that I have acquired a confidence in myself previously missing."

"Instead of wondering in what inning I am going to be knocked out of the box, I am figuring on how few runs I can hold the opposition."

"Yes, Bryan has finally arrived," interposed Connie Mack.

"I have been a long time on the way, I should be landing somewhere," said Harriss.

TWILIGHT LOOP TEAM BEATS LARK SQUAD IN NINTH

Battle of Wits and Inside Ball Gives Bankers 7 to 6 Win Over Lion Crew

In the second soft ball battle which was settled in the final inning instead of two days, the Bankers of the Twilight League nosed out a 7 to 6 win over the Lions crew of the Lark League Thursday evening at Jones park. The game was a practice battle to replace the Lion-Rotary game which was cancelled. Sternal and Schabo of the Legion crew took care of two of the outer gardens for the Bankers.

Several of the runs were scored on errors but flashes of real ball loomed up between times, especially when "signals" were used to produce scores on inside baseball. Williams, Agrell and Dutcher clouted the bill hard for the losers, while Herb Voeks and McKenzie hit well for the winners. McKenzie at first and Stoeger at third were the stars of the Bankers' infield. "Al" showed himself pretty good at pulling foul balls into fair territory to fool his ump, Mr. Val Beyer.

Each team scored once in the first. The Lions got one to the Bankers two in the third and put over another to tie the count 3 all in the fourth. The Bankers scored again in the fifth and when the Lions poked over three in the first of the eighth for a 6 to 4 count it looked like curtains for the Bankers. Not discouraged the Bankers drove over two to tie the score in their half of the round. The Lions lost an easy chance for two scores in the ninth and with one down in their half of the inning, the Bankers enabled the "crowd" to get home by bedtime by putting the winning tally over. Lineups were, Bankers—H. Voeks, McKenzie, Stoeger, Sauer, Sternal, Schabo, Buboltz, W. Voeks, Tock and Schreiter; Lions—Don Frawley, Agrell, W. J. Frawley, Schneider, Jensen, Connelly, Saecker, Dutcher and Engel. Score: Bankers 7, Lions 6. 1 0 1 1 0 0 0 3 0 — 6 Bankers 1 0 2 0 1 0 0 2 1 — 7 Batteries—Buboltz and Sauer; Jensen and W. Frawley.

ILLINOIS IS FAVORITE IN BIG 10 TRACK MEET

Columbus, O.—Keyed to the record breaking point by an unusual season, track athletes of the Big Ten and surrounding midwestern territory Friday morning were looking forward with anticipation to the afternoon's Western conference meet preliminaries.

With elimination heats scheduled for all events except the mile and two mile runs, Friday's events may result, in upsets which might mean the elimination of some teams as title contenders.

In spite of its casualties from injury and ineligibility this week, Illinois continued to be the favorite of local track followers, Michigan, Wisconsin and Ohio state in the order named are the others believed to have the greatest strength, with Iowa and perhaps Missouri as possible dark horses.

Friday's events were scheduled to get under way at 2:35 p. m., eastern standard time. Coaches of the teams were to meet conference officials for instruction on the meet at noon. Drawings for heats, lanes and the pole position were to be made at that time.

Mrs. Gibbons too ill to see Tom in action

St. Paul, Minn.—Tommy Gibbons' strongest supporters will be a long way from the ringside Friday night when the St. Paul boxer tackles Gene Tunney, American light heavyweight champion in a New York ring.

They are Mrs. Gibbons and the five little Gibbonses—Tommy, 7, Jack, 5, Dick, 3, and Mark and Jerome, two years old. It will be one of the few times that Tommy has engaged in a big fight without his family nearby.

One of the principal reasons why the Gibbons family did not take up its temporary residence at Tommy's training quarters, was the illness of Mrs. Gibbons. And that also is the reason why the local batters may soon end his ring career.

While reports from the Gotham daily center quote critics as saying that the winner of the battle may be matched with Jack Dempsey for heavyweight event, Gibbons' friends here believe that Tommy, even though he is victor, may make this his last ring engagement.

FONDY, PLYMOUTH PLAY FOR LOOP LEADERSHIP

Fond du Lac—Bert Elliot famous in these parts as a basketball player, will be on the mound for the Plymouth ball team when they play the Fond du Lac squad at Rensselaer park Sunday afternoon. Elliot is pitching great ball and turned in a 2 to 1 victory over Campbellport last Saturday.

Plymouth and Fondy are tied for first place in the league standings and one or the other will be dropped from the top perch after Sunday's contest.

"Eps" Lou, will pitch for Fondy on Sunday. On Monday dry Lou at Fond du Lac and on Tuesday at Rensselaer. The local player pitched errorless ball at Oshkosh, but were off their feet in the tilt with Campbellport on Sunday.

Chicago—Arnold Staz, Cub outfielder, was released to Los Angeles of the Pacific coast league.

CHALLENGER AND CHAMPION

TOMMY GIBBONS

Tommy Gibbons, the man who Jack Dempsey was unable to sell, meets Gene Tunney in a battle for the light heavyweight crown Friday night. The victor is the logical contender for Dempsey's heavyweight title.

GENE TUNNEY

Presenting Gene Tunney, king of the light heavies, who must repel the invasion of Tommy Gibbons Friday night to hold his throne. He is the conqueror of Harry Greb to whom Gibbons lost a hard fight a year ago.

Firpo's Punches Didn't Hurt Brennan, Flynn Says

BY JOE WILLIAMS
New York—Mr. Leo P. Flynn was talking fight. Mr. Flynn is always talking fight or something. Mr. Flynn is that sort of person.

Someone had made the crack that Mr. Flynn with all his success as a manager of knucklers had never entered contract to a really first-class nose demolisher.

This was a tribute to Mr. Flynn's rare genius as a modern Barnum, but it left the gentleman strangely cold and unresponsive.

"What about Kid Norfolk?" he countered. "There's a black boy that never got the credit due him. He had everything going. I used to have more trouble matching him than a three-year-old has in pronouncing Zhyzsko."

Mr. Flynn then went into a few succulent confidences. He told how he was forced to post $5,000 as a guarantee that Norfolk would not try for a knockout against a contemporary white 160-pounder, who was at that time being hailed as the leading representative of his division.

"And that was not an uncommon transaction," continued Mr. Flynn. "I had to do the same thing in order to get Norfolk fights with a number of the John Barrymores of the ring."

Mr. Flynn was quick to indicate that his high moral code and religious principles caused him to look upon such proceedings with a distinct frown of disapproval.

"But that was the only way I could get the kid enough money to eat on," he explained.

Mr. Flynn had a deep personal regard for his heavyweight, Big Bill Brennan, lately deceased, but he did not late him as a star.

"Brennan couldn't get mad. An egg who refuses to get annoyed over a crack in the pan is like a stationary bath tub. He isn't going to get very far."

One of the villagers who had been raving upon Mr. Flynn's dazzling sartorial make-up with unrestrained awe, murmured that it was a marvel that Brennan had ever been able to survive the awful punch Firpo had hit him.

"What punch?" inquired Mr. Flynn, lifting a well-picked eyebrow.

"You know what punch," returned the local Moose, "the one Firpo sent him to a Jewish hospital with."

This remark caused Mr. Flynn to effect a grimace of positive distress.

"Firpo didn't knock Brennan into a Jewish hospital," a Peruvian hospitable, or any kind of a hospital," insisted Mr. Flynn. "That was all a lot of tripe."

"Brennan was in a somewhat bibby, lousy mood after that fight and playfully tried to climb a tree in Central Park with his French racing car."

"When the keepers assorted him from the spark plugs, carburetor, gears and headlight, Brennan was taken to a hospital and the newspaper boys were told Firpo had made a horrible mistake of him."

Mr. Flynn added that Firpo took the jest with excessive gravity and called at the hospital daily to express his sorrow.

Kimberly crew meets old rival

Louis Loose, former K-C star, brings Kohler team for Sunday battle

An old athletic rivalry will break open again Sunday, when Louis Loose, former Kimberly-Clark Co. star athlete, will bring his Kohler Co. baseball team of Kohler to Kimberly for a game with his old mates. The for a game with his old mates. The for a game with his old mates.

Loose starred in all branches of athletics for the Kimberly-Clark Co. for three years and his work against the Kohlers gave him a job as director of athletics at that place. He probably will see action in the infield with the invaders. Another familiar term probably will grace the mound for the victors—the person of "Ham" Gottacker, former Shioyee chair hurler, who was with Storny Kromer at Blytheville this year. He was released and as he saw service with Kohler last year, probably will be on duty on Sunday's game.

The Kimberly battery will be Poca on Klondike as hurlers, with Eps on the receiving end. The remainder of the lineup includes: Eps, catcher; Len Smith, first base; "Pete" Koll and Henry Thein, outfielders. "Butch" Thein, regular infielder is playing at Blytheville with Kromer. Pete Lamensky will umpire the battle. The Kohlerites will come down 30 strong and will be entertained at a dinner at the Kimberly clubhouse after the game.

ROG HORNSBY AND BOB MUESEL TIED IN CIRCUIT HITS

New Cardinal Boss Clouts Fifteenth to Tie Yank Slugger's Season Mark

By Associated Press
New York—Now batting laurels dot the major leagues Friday, Rogers Hornsby, Cardinal manager, being tied for the season's total home runs with Bob Muesel of the Yankees at fifteen.

Hitting carnivals were held on practically every big circuit diamond Thursday at the expense of 38 pitchers, 23 of them in the National league. Fifteen homers were made. Five pitchers were used by the Browns in a fruitless effort to stave off an 11 to 10 defeat at Cleveland.

MacKenzie pounded three Boston twirlers for 17 hits at Boston to win by 15 to 2.

The Yankee's jinx cropped out again as the Senators triumphed 8 to 3. Joe Judge of Washington making two homers, which brought his total for 1925 to seven. Babe Ruth failed to break into the hit column. In spite of two Hornsby circuit wallops the Giants turned out an 11 to 10 victory in a game replete with loose pitching and heavy slugging at St. Louis.

Four Phillie boxmen were victims as Pittsburgh won.

The Reds ended their losing streak by slashing out 16 hits in an 11 inning game and defeating the Braves 7 to 6.

Manager Bancroft of the Braves, shortstop, broke his left thumb and will be out of the game for at least two weeks.

Brooklyn came out on the short end of an 11 to 9 score at Chicago. Fourteen hits went for extra bases.

Dave's Dots And Dashes

A. C. Denny, director of athletics at Lawrence college is about to reap at least a partial reward for his fine work in Lawrence athletics, which has helped to give the Blue a state and midwest reputation, if rumors flying around the campus and town are any indication. The Blue mentor is said to have received several fine offers for his services from large colleges within the last two days, one of which would be mighty interesting to any coach. It looks as if the Lawrence board of trustees will have something to think about when it meets here over the weekend to discuss next year's coaches. They might do well to meet the figure of Denny's best offer if possible, as they are passing up a mighty sweet coach if they let him go.

Fox River Paper Co. has a chance to go into second place in the Eastern Wisconsin loop Sunday only a half-game behind the leader as a result of a game between the two teams which was tied for first, Fondy and Plymouth. To do this the Papermakers must beat Chilton, a real crew. Chilton won a 2 to 1 battle in the league opener and Baetz's boys are out to even matters so that a good game is in prospect at Brandt park.

Two questions still remain unsolved so we are about to make a couple of bum guesses. The first is who will beat the Legion in the Lark loop. We say if any team does it this year, which we are beginning to wonder if it will be the Lions, the boys who always show the pep. In all other loop pthe question of who will beat the Post-Crescents is harder to answer as there are about three teams who might come under this head, when playing right. They are the Footfitters, Bankers, and Y. M. C. A. Just as an idle guess we'll pick the "T" crew.

Menasha sure is one real sport ball town even if the fans don't come through. Here the Kellogg come all the way from Michigan on a western tour and have a game scheduled with the old Pals. Not to disappoint them or hurt their plans, Harry Gossett puts a team in suits to play them. With but three old State League men, he adds Dutch Sylvester and the stars of the Riverview team to help put it over. Good stuff, we say, and all the support that he can get Sunday will not be undeserved.

Graduation at Fond du Lac will end the scholastic athletic career of two sport stars at the Cardinal institution. Dolan and Muesel are slated to receive their sheepskins. Both of these athletes played football, baseball and basketball. Muesel, it is said, will enter St. Norbert's college in the fall.

LARGE GROUP SIGNING UP TO LEARN TO SWIM

With applications for the Learn To Swim campaign which will be conducted by Appleton Y. M. C. A. for the next two weeks, closing on Saturday, entry blanks were pouring in to the office of A. P. Jensen, physical director, more rapidly Thursday, and swimming and life-saving are favorable. The slogan of the campaign is "Every person a swimmer and every swimmer a life-saver." A final effort to bring in several more applications will be made Friday evening. A. P. Jensen and Don Gebhardt, physical directors of the local association, will be in charge of the lessons. The schedule of swimming days will be out on Saturday.

Boxing Experts Divided As Tunney And Gibbons Square Off For Battle

Western Phantom and Eastern Puncher Will Eliminate One or Other from Running

By Associated Press
New York—Two of the leaders in the heavyweight ranks who have been tugging at the mantle of Jack Dempsey will square off Friday night at the Polo Grounds in a 15 round bout to a decision.

They are Gene Tunney of New York and Tom Gibbons of St. Paul, clever boxers with punching power that has been sufficient to dispose of many a likely aspirant.

It will be a meeting of two veterans of the World war, two exponents of the same fighting style and two clean cut warriors whose records place them on a footing so even that opinion is equally divided as to the outcome. A 27 year old eastern bachelior will fight a 36 year old western fampossible heavyweight champion. Gibbons, seeking to lengthen the string of western heavyweight kings aims at a record attained only by Bob Fitzsimmons, who was the only man to win the heavyweight title when past the age of 36. Experts forecast a duel of body punching in the early rounds. Although the chances of a knockout are considered slim, Tunney is rated as having the best chance to put over a finishing blow, but on the other hand, Gibbons has greater experience and is considered the superior boxer. The promoters of the fight have prohibited radio casting from the grounds.

GENE IS SLIGHTLY BIGGER THAN TOM

Tunney	Age	Gibbons
27	36	36
6'1"	Height	6'0"
182	Weight	180
76%	Reach	73
17	Neck	16 1/2
14 1/2	Biceps	14 1/2
13 1/2	Forearm	13
8 1/2	Wrist	8 1/2
33	Waist	32 1/2
22	Thigh	21 1/2
15	Calf	15
9 1/2	Ankle	10

Two weeks from Friday a second pair of heavyweight contenders will be seen by a metropolitan audience. They will be Harry Vills, Negro challenger, accepted as an outstanding opponent for Jack Dempsey, and Charlie Weinert of Newark, N. J., conqueror of Luis Firpo.

Long and careful training has brought Tunney and Gibbons to their best fighting weights with an advantage of only a pound or two for Tunney.

New York fans will be looking to Tunney for victory as this city's first ally man.
